The lower the percentage, the less color other than red present in your image, conversely, the higher the number and the more the other colors will predominate.
Try to dose to get the perfect image that suits you.
All the files were created under several extensions, like high contrast, lipstick type ... etc.

Within each of the files there are intense versions and cinema versions, which can give very beautiful cinematographic image (for the cinema version) or very colorful (for the intense version).
